A BUSINESS PARABLE.

Once a farmer had 1800 bushels of wheat, which he sold, not to a single grain merchant, but 1800 different dealers, a bushel each. A few of them paid in cash, but far the greater number said it was not convenient then; they would pay later. A few months passed, and the man's bank account ran low. "How is this?" he said. "My 1800 bushels of grain should have kept me in affluence until another crop is raised, but I have parted with the grain and have instead only a vast number of accounts, so small and scattered that I cannot get around and collect fast enough to pay expenses." So he posted up a public notice and asked all those who owed him to pay quickly. But few came. The rest said, "Mine is only a small matter, and I will go and pay some of these days," forgetting that, though each account was very small, when all were put together they meant a large sum to the man. Things went on thus. The man got to feeling so bad that he fell out of bed and awoke, and running to his granary, found his 1800 bushels of wheat still safe there. He had only been dreaming. Moral.—The next day the man went to the publisher of his paper and said: "Here sir, is the pay for your paper, and when next year's subscription is due you can depend on me to pay promptly. I stood in the position of an editor last night, and I know how he feels to have one's honestly earned money scattered all over the country in small amounts."—Trafford News, Trafford City, Pa.

FLIES KILL BABIES.

In a recent article in the New York Medical Journal Dr. Huber of the Fordham University Medical School said: "There is no doubt that the flies do much to swell the infant death rate. It has been shown conclusively that infant mortality is the greatest in fly time. There are few more congenial culture mediums for bacteria than milk and should there be the least con-sation of care in the destruction of flies and in keeping them away from the child, death may result.

INEXCUSABLE IGNORANCE.

The legislators of Texas are willing to put up several million dollars to pay the expenses of finding a way to talk with the inhabitants of Mars. There are those who claim that the world isn't moving but this shows that they are talking through their head coverings when they say so. Think of Texas leading out in an effort to converse with the inhabitants of Mars! Texas, the land of long horns and mesquite and sage hens and cactus and where the howl of the coyote mingles with the cowboy's refrain—Topeka, (Kan.) Mail and Breeze.

The above is a fair sample of much that is published and believed about Texas in the North and East. One of the editors of the Mail and Breeze has held a state office for several terms and the paper has a large circulation.

We wonder that those who undertake to teach others do not first in form themselves. It is the old story of the blind leading the blind.

But let us not flatter ourselves that we are better off in this respect than others. It is common for newspapers and public speakers in this part of Texas to make statements about the West especially the Rio Grande border, that every one familiar with conditions there knows to be erroneous. Yet they are made in good faith and accepted as true. It would not be so bad if these misrepresentations were not sometimes used as the basis of misleading arguments by which many are deceived.

Is Arkansas big enough to hold both Jeff Davis and Carrie Nation?

Isn't Roosevelt a regicide? He has killed six kings—the lion is the king of beasts, you know.

It is said that the new liquor law will put two hundred and fifty Houston saloons out of business.

If the commission on country life really wants to find out what is the matter perhaps Wheat-corner Patten could give them some pointers.

The socialists are terribly in earnest—there is no doubt about that. People make fun of them, but some of us remember how a little band of factional abolitionists led by William Lloyd Garrison and Wendall Phillips were a butt of ridicule fifty years ago.

The all-cotton farmer is a reactionary. The diversificationist is opposed to absolutism and would limit the power of King Cotton by a wise, and liberal constitution.

Patten says if he hadn't cornered the wheat market somebody else would have done it. Since the world began this has been the favorite excuse of evil doers.

Mobley started a row in the legislature by calling Hill a liar. It is in order for some member to move to amend the name of the representative from Henderson county by striking out the last syllable.

The Thirty-first legislature has done some fool things and failed to do some things that it ought to have done, but it hasn't been idiotic enough to appropriate $10,000,000 to signal Mars, as was published in a Kansas paper last week.

Every good citizen hopes that Gov. Haskell and the six prominent citizens of Oklahoma associated with him in the Muskogee town lots affair will have a fair, impartial trial and, if convicted, will be punished as they deserve. Let no guilty man escape.

Castro and Abdul Hamid, the latest of the fallen rulers, were thrifty and did not neglect to make hay while the sun shone. Each piled up wealth amounting to many millions. They differed, however, in the fact that Castro got away with his while they caught Ab with the goods on.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. W. T. James has received a letter from the relatives of Marvin Holland at Water Valley, Ky., stating that the remains arrived there in good condition, but were considerably delayed in transit. They requested the publication of a card thanking the friends of the young man for their kindness to him and his relatives upon the occasion of his death, and in the preparation of his body for shipment and burial. The card was signed by the young man's wife, Mrs. Ella Holland. His brothers, Henry, Geo. Joe and Leonard Holland; and his sisters, Mrs. J. P. McDowell, Mrs. Dr. W. S. Hamlett, Mrs. Nathan McLendon and Mrs. Sam Morgan.
